Martin Investment Management, LLC, a majority women owned investment advisor, pays tribute to M.E. Hogan with an investment strategy focused not only on strong investment returns but also on companies with women in leadership roles. M.E. Hogan, “one of the nation’s shrewdest business women...who made history in the lumber and logging industry” in the early 20th century, wrote her unique signature on checks ranging from a few cents to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Her investment philosophy of buying equity shares in growing, high quality companies is an integral part of the investment philosophy of Martin Investment Management, LLC. Martin Signature Investing is a focused strategy that invests in 25 to 30 high quality U.S. and non-U.S. developed world companies with large market capitalizations. The strategy seeks to invest in companies that encourage and support women to be leaders, entrepreneurs, investors and decision makers. Martin Signature Investing is an active strategy based on a bottom up fundamental approach coupled with a disciplined valuation process. The strategy seeks to invest in growing companies that generate positive cash flow, maintain low leverage, and have quality practices, products, and services.
